Plant a Row for the Hungry is an international project (www.gardenwriters.org) that encourages gardeners to share their extra produce with needy folks in their community.

What if you, or someone you know, would like to help, but don't have a place to garden? The Wakamatsu Farm, which is managed by the American River Conservancy, has a Giving Garden. All the produce grown is given to various food programs throughout our community. Volunteers are welcome to help in the garden. Contact Marianne at 530-621-1224 to sign up for one of their work days, which are scheduled several times each month.

If you know of food closets or hunger projects to add to this list, please contact Robin Stanley at 530-644-1631 or birdwomanca@comcast.net. This flyer can be found on the Master Gardener website at http://ucanr.edu/sites/EDC_Master_Gardeners, or on the Plant a Row website at <http://par-edc.org/>.
